Role of Growth Factors in Skin Repair and Rejuvenation

Skin is capable of healing, regenerating and growing cells. There are many naturally occurring elements in young, healthy skin that provide tremendous regenerative benefits. Through meticulous clinical research, SkinMedica has been able to create a treatment that provides skin with what it naturally uses to fight aging: Growth Factors.

Growth Factors play an integral role in skin's natural ability to repair damage caused by the effects of aging.

TNS Recovery Complex is 93.6% active ingredient concentration – Formulated from naturally occurring growth factors, antioxidants, soluble collagen, and matrix proteins, TNS has been clinically proven to:

- Reduce the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles
- Diminish the appearance of age spots and dyspigmentation
- Improve skin texture, tone, and elasticity
- Reduce roughness and photodamage

Anti-Aging Cream

Tissue Nutrient Solution Serum (TNS) created by SkinMedica, is a facial cream derived from foreskin cells and boosts the body's own anti-aging properties and stimulates new skin growth and collagen formation. The cream does not contain actual bits of foreskin.

"This is serious science," board-certified dermatologist Dr. Hema Sundaram says. "Eighteen years ago, scientists realized they could take a few cells from [the foreskin]—these are young, healthy, living skin cells—and they could grow them. By growing them, they could get [the cells] to produce this amazing mixture called TNS, which has over 100 growth factors in it."

"I think of it as chicken soup for the skin, because it heals aging," Dr. Sundaram adds. "The only thing shocking about this product is how well it works."
